Enjoy the peace and quiet of this delightful cottage with stunning views over the Dorset countryside

Ash Cottage is part of a beautifully converted barn, which is now a row of luxurious mews cottages standing in the midst of very quiet and peaceful farmland, with a large communal lawn edged by a pretty stream and with breathtaking views over rolling Dorset hills.

Chideock lies some 7 miles from well-known Lyme Regis and two miles from the lively market town of Bridport. It is a short stroll from the cottage to the shingle beach at Seatown with its own Pub, The Anchor, on the sea's edge, serving great food and traditional ale, or to the top of sea cliffs with a commanding vista over the whole of Lyme Bay. Fossils can be found on the beach here and also at Charmouth, 4 miles to the west.

Address: Ash Cottage, Willowhayne Farm, Chideock, Dorset, England.
